

ADDICTION COUNSELING AND REHABILITATION MASTER'S COURSE PROGRAM

A. MANDATORY COURSES

Code of the Course	Name of the Course
BDR542	Alcohol and Substance Use Disorders and Behavioral and Other Addictions: Concepts and properties of substances, forms of use, symptoms of intoxication and withdrawal, and user characteristics in substance use disorders will be discussed.
BDR543	Rehabilitation in Addiction: Counseling and social services for the addicted person and their families, which are necessary for a long-term recovery in addiction and reorganization of one's life, will be covered.
BDR541	Motivational Interviewing in Addiction: In the treatment of addiction, it is aimed to determine the treatment willingness level of the individual, to adopt approaches specific to this period, and to teach the attempts to transition to a higher level of willingness. Motivational interview principles, Phases of change, Precontemplation, contemplation, Preparation, Action, Maintenance and Relapse period approach.
ENS501	Research Methods and Ethics: It is aimed to teach basic and epidemiological statistical analysis techniques and planning, conducting, data analysis and interpretation of addiction researches in society. The advancement of academics in their careers depends more on their ability to publish this information than on their level of knowledge. Making and writing scientific studies is a skill that an academician must learn and acquire in his career. In this course, the most basic and practical information about writing academic articles, starting and finishing writing, and publishing studies will be presented. Students will be prepared for the thesis term that they will enter the following year, and efforts will be made to prevent the difficulties they will encounter.

B. OPTIONAL COURSES

Code of the Course	Name of the Course
--------------------	--------------------

BDR545	Psychotherapeutic Interview Techniques: This is a course in which the client-counselor relationship is evaluated and discussed through case examples, and the basic principles of meeting theory with practice are covered.
BDR546	Addiction Law and Ethics: It is aimed to teach national and international legal rules and ethical principles on subjects such as criminal responsibilities, civil rights, reintegration into society, protection of privacy of individuals with addiction problems.
BDR547	Psychological Tests and Assessment: Basic test administration and interpretation skills are emphasized. In particular, it is studied on test applications related to addiction. To train psychologists to help patients solve their psychological problems, to determine the problems of patients by applying various psychological tests and scales, to help patients gain communication skills and problem-solving skills. Particular emphasis is placed on the application and interpretation of the Minnesota Multidimensional Personality Inventory. In this course, report writing skills are also developed.
BDR548	Psychopharmacology and Toxicology of Addiction: Information will be given about the pharmacology and toxicology of substances that cause addiction, and the issues to be considered in the evaluation of laboratory results will be emphasized.
BDR549	Other psychiatric disorders accompanying substance use disorders (Dual Diagnosis: An Overview of Co-morbid Disorders): The diagnosis and treatment of other psychiatric disorders accompanying substance use disorders will be discussed.
BDR520	Family Approach in Addiction, Counseling and Psychoeducation: The aim of the Family Therapy course is to introduce the approach to families with addictions, to improve students' ability to identify and solve family problems, and to develop counseling and training skills for families in this area.
BDR551	Psychotherapy in Addiction: This is a course that focuses on individual therapies in the context of cognitive-behavioral, guiding, psychodynamic and transactional views. At the same time, treatment methods for the family of the addicts and the people related to them in the community will also be discussed.
BDR552	Group Therapies in Addiction Treatment: In this course, it is aimed to provide students with basic knowledge about group psychotherapies together with practical application. Group formation, patient selection, therapeutic factors in group therapies, ethical principles in group therapy, dynamics of group therapies are discussed. Group therapies used in substance use disorders will be discussed in the context of cognitive behavioral, guiding, psychodynamic and transactional views.